

KENDALL YARDS ART WALK

FEATURED ART INSTALLATIONS

So It Flows

Bill & Karma Simmons, 2011
A horizontal corten steel fence structure that evokes the flow of the Spokane River.

Located at the Hamblen Overlook along the Centennial Trail near Nettleton St.

Wet to Dry

Unknown, 2012

This concrete stamped word ladder was inspired by the interaction between water ("WET") and land ("DRY") throughout our entire region.

Located on The Nest Plaza.

Parliament of Hares

Beth Cavener Stichter, 2010

This permanent bronze sculpture installation is a nod to the British fable of forest governance.

Located in front of Spa Paradiso in the business district.

Al's Cube

Mario Uribe, 2011

A steel cube sculpture with internal patterns reflecting the Buddhist sacred geometric philosophy of heaven, earth and man.

Located in Olmsted Brothers Green park.

Cherry Blossom Cathedral

Cain & Todd Benson, 2012

A large scale painted mural of "life under the canopy in the smallest detail."

Located in the Kendall Yards Welcome Center.

Fish Eye View

Melissa Singh Cole, 2015

Representing the quality of life we enjoy in Spokane, this colorful mural depicts the natural beauty and harmonious relationship of the Spokane River and Centennial Trail.

Located on the mixed-use building in Adams Alley.

Bulldozer

Roger Berry, 2012

This corten steel sculpture reflects the silent power and toughness of those who built our communities.

Located near the Maple Street Bridge overpass along Summit Parkway.

Love Letter to Spokane

Cain & Todd Benson, 2012

This hidden gem is a painted mural of life in our great city.

Located in the hallway between the Kendall Yards Welcome Center and Central Food.

Millennium Mobius

Peter Forakis, 2000

A sculpture installation made of painted red steel, reflecting the fascination with and power of geometry.

Located on The Nest Plaza.

Mixed Forms

Harold Balaz, 2012

This steel sculpture by a local cultural icon, is an ode to the geometry of life.

Located in front of The Yards in the business district.

POINTS OF INTEREST

- 1 Sunset Overlook
- 2 Future Sunset Park
- 3 Sandfur Trail Connection
- 4 Riverbend Overlook
- 5 Big Table Overlook
- 6 Hamblen Overlook
- 7 Olmsted Green Park
- 8 The Gorge Overlook
- 9 The Nest Plaza
- 10 Monroe Street Overlook